Rivier business forum to host potential presidential candidate

Potential presidential candidate Carly Fiorina will speak at the Rivier University President's Circle leadership and networking forum later this month.

The forum will host the businesswoman and conservative policy advocate on May 26. Fiorina, formerly the Hewlett-Packard CEO and chairman, is considering a 2016 presidential run.

Fiorina chairs several organizations, including the American Conservative Union Foundation, a group promoting public discourse on conservative principles; Good360, a product philanthropy organization; and Opportunity International, a nonprofit microfinance lender.

The President's Circle sets the stage for community and business leaders to share ideas on topics affecting business in New Hampshire and Massachusetts.

The event will be held at the Dion Reception Room, starting with breakfast and networking from 7:30-8 a.m.

Preregistration is required. To register, visit rivier.edu/presidents-circle or call 897-8665.
